LETTERS OF APPLICATION AND RECOMMENDATION
DURING THE ADMINISTRATION OF
JOHN QUINCY ADAMS, 1825-1829

The Letters of Application and Recommendation of the Department of State (1797-1901) are arranged in chronological units that correspond approximately with Presidential administrations. The material in each unit is in alphabetical order under the surname of the applicant or person recommended. This microfilm publication, comprising 8 rolls, reproduces the letters of this series for the administration of President John Quincy Adams, 1825-29.

Requests for employment in other departments of the Government, particularly the Navy, War, and Treasury Departments, are also in this series. Because these areas were beyond the purview of the Secretary of State, it is possible that such documents were referred to the Department of State by the President. Many applications were forwarded by Members of Congress and executive officials of the Government to whom they had been addressed.

Most of the applicants solicited specific positions for which they considered themselves qualified. Others requested any kind of Government employment. In a large number of applications the applicant stated that his poor health impeded his usual method of making a living and that an appointment to a Mediterranean or Caribbean post, for instance, would undoubtedly restore him to full vigor. Nearly every document in the file states that the applicant is the sole support of a large family.

The Adams-Jackson presidential contest is reflected in these letters. Most applicants resided in the northeastern section of the country and were recommended by such New England statesmen as Daniel Webster, Edward Everett, and Joseph Story. Applications also came from the western part of the country and were supported by Jackson adherents, such as Thomas H. Benton, Sam Houston, and William Henry Harrison.

Until 1834 no separate organizational units existed within the Department of State. In 1834 the Home Bureau was created and received custody of the Letters of Application and Recommendation. The records were successively in the charge of the Clerk of Appointments and Commissions, 1846-70; the Bureau of Pardons and Commissions, 1870-95; the Appointment Clerk, 1895-98; the Bureau of Appointments, 1898-1924; and the Appointment Section in the Chief Clerk's Office, 1924-39. On January 11, 1939, the records were transferred to the National Archives.

The records are part of Record Group 59, General Records of the Department of State, which contains other documents that relate to appointments to Federal office. These include oaths of office, attested copies of confirmations and rejections of appointments, and copies of commissions of departmental and Foreign Service personnel and other Federal officials.

LIST OF APPLICANTS AND PERSONS RECOMMENDED

Each entry gives the name of the applicant, appropriate cross-references to other applicants, the date span of documents and their enclosures, and the number of documents that contain a reference to the applicant or applicants. The term "document" as used in this microcopy may be either an individual letter with no enclosures or a letter of transmittal with its enclosures.

This list contains only the names of applicants for positions and of officeholders. It does not list the many important individuals whose letters of endorsement and comment are present in the file.

Examples and explanations of the cross-references used in this microfilm publication are as follows:

1. Appleton, J. J. See Armstrong, Andrew.

Signifies that all material referring to J. J. Appleton will be found under the name of Andrew Armstrong.

2. Armstrong, Andrew, Apr. 19, 1826-Aug. 1827 (3).
See also Irwin, John; Robeson, Thomas W., Yost, Philip, Jr.

Signifies that in addition to the material filed under the name of Andrew Armstrong there are references to him included under the names of John Irwin, Thomas W. Robeson, and Philip Yost, Jr.
