GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION
WASHINGTON: 1968

The records reproduced in this microfilm publication are from Applications and Recommendations for Public Office, General Records of the Department of State (Record Group 59) in the National Archives and Records Service.

LETTERS OF APPLICATION AND RECOMMENDATION
DURING THE ADMINISTRATION OF
ANDREW JACKSON, 1829-1837

The Letters of Application and Recommendation of the Department of State (1797-1901) are arranged in chronological units that correspond approximately with Presidential administrations. The material in each unit is in alphabetical order under the surname of the applicant or person recommended. This microfilm publication, comprised of 27 rolls, reproduces the letters of this series for the administration of President Andrew Jackson, 1829-37.

Requests for employment in such Government agencies as the Treasury, Post Office, and the Patent Office are included with requests for a position as judge, marshal, attorney, clerk, and particularly for Commercial Agent and Consular Officer. Many of these letters were addressed to the Secretary of State; others were forwarded to him by Members of Congress, members of the Cabinet, and the President. The Secretary of State in a letter dated April 7, 1837, to Jacob Broom (State Department, "Domestic" Letters, Vol. 29) stated that the late President (Jackson) had requested and received all of the letters referring to appointments addressed to him personally during his term.

Most of the applicants sought specific positions for which they considered themselves qualified. Others requested any kind of Government employment. In many letters the applicants stated that their poor health impeded the usual method of making a living; they asked for appointments to certain locations thought to have salubrious climates.

Many applicants, especially those from frontier areas, emphasized former military service. Some claimed service under Jackson in his military campaigns. Sam Houston, Thomas H. Benton, and William H. Harrison were considered by a great number of applicants to have influence with Jackson, and often their recommendations are included. These letters also include comments on the Adams-Jackson Presidential contest, the Jackson-Clay conflict, the issue of Nullification, and Jackson's battle against the United States Bank.

Until 1834 no separate organizational unit with responsibility for letters of Application and Recommendation existed within the Department of State. In 1834 the Home Bureau was created and received custody of such records. The records were successively in the custody of the Clerk of Appointments and Commissions, 1846-70; the Bureau of Pardons and Commissions, 1870-95; the Appointment Clerk, 1895-98; the Bureau of Appointments, 1898-1924; and the Appointment Section in the Chief Clerk's Office, 1924-39. On January 11, 1939, the records were transferred to the National Archives.

The records are part of Record Group 59, General Records of the Department of State, which contains other documents that relate to appointments to Federal office. These include oaths of office, attested copies of confirmations and rejections of appointments, and copies of commissions of departmental and Foreign Service personnel and other Federal officials.

The records reproduced in this microfilm publication were prepared for filming by Carol Blanchard, who also wrote these introductory remarks and provided the other editorial material. The version of the introductory remarks in this pamphlet is to some extent an expansion of the introduction and contents in the microcopy.

LIST OF APPLICANTS AND PERSONS RECOMMENDED

Each entry gives the name of the applicant, appropriate cross-reference to other applicants, the date span of documents and their enclosures, and the number of documents that contain a reference to the applicant or applicants. The term "document" as used in this microcopy is an individual letter.

The list contains only the names of applicants for positions and of officeholders. It does not list the individuals whose letters of endorsement and comment are present in the file.

Examples and explanations of the cross-references used in this microfilm publication are as follows:

1. Adams, George B. See Convers, E. D.

Signifies that all material referring to George B. Adams will be found under the name of E. D. Convers.

2. Adams, Joseph H. . . .See also Niles, Nathaniel

Signifies that in addition to the material filed under the name of Joseph H. Adams there are references to him included under the name of Nathaniel Niles.
