LETTERS OF APPLICATION AND RECOMMENDATION
DURING THE ADMINISTRATIONS OF JAMES POLK, ZACHARY TAYLOR,
AND MILLARD FILLMORE, 1845-1853

The Department of State series of Letters of Applications and Recommendations for appointment to Public Office, 1791-1901, is arranged in segments that correspond approximately with Presidential administrations. On the 98 rolls of this microfilm publication are reproduced the letters from the series for the administrations of Presidents James Polk, Zachary Taylor, and Millard Fillmore, 1845-53. The letters are arranged in alphabetical order under the surname of the applicant or person recommended.

Many requests for public office were sent directly to the Secretary of State; others were forwarded to him by the President, Members of Congress, and Cabinet members. The applicants were mainly interested in positions as consular officers, marshals, judges, and territorial officers. Some were interested in establishing businesses in the West or abroad and asked to be made bearers of despatches to have their transportation costs paid.

These records reflect the beginning of the mass movement to the West; the problems arising from the opening of new territories, such as Oregon, Texas, California, and Minnesota; and the removal from office of "loco-focos" appointed during Van Buren's administration.

The Department of State did not have a separate office with responsibility for letters of application and recommendation until 1834 when the Home Bureau was created. The records in 1846 were placed in custody of the Clerk of Appointments and remained so until 1870. The records then were successively in the custody of the Bureau of Pardons and Commissions, 1870-95, the Appointment Clerk, 1895-98, the Bureau of Appointments, 1898-1924, and the Appointment Section of the Chief Clerk's Office from 1924 until January 11, 1939, when they were transferred to the National Archives.

The records are part of the General Records of the Department of State, Record Group 59. In the same record group are other documents relating to appointments to public office, including oaths of office, attested copies of confirmations and rejections by the Senate, copies of commissions, and resignations and declinations of appointments.

There are other records in the National Archives and Records Services (NARS) that relate to appointments during the administrations of Polk, Taylor, and Fillmore. These are in Records of the Office of the Secretary of War, Record Group 107; Records of the Adjutant General's Office, 1780's-1917,

Record Group 94; General Records of the Department of Justice, Record Group 60; Records of the Post Office Department, Record Group 28; General Records of the Department of the Treasury, Record Group 56; and Records of the Office of Secretary of the Interior, Record Group 48.

The records reproduced in this microfilm publication were prepared for filming by Hudson Marts and Kathie Nicaastro. Nicaastro wrote the introductory remarks and provided the other editorial material.

INDEX

The entries in this list give the names of the applicants, appropriate cross-references, the date span of documents and their enclosures, and the number of documents that contain a reference to the applicant or applicants. A few entries give names of positions (for example, Acapulco, consulate at) rather than names of individuals. The only position or place names included are those for which there are separate files among the letters of application and recommendation. The term "document" refers either to an individual letter with no enclosures or to a letter of transmittal with its enclosures. The names of all applicants and officeholders are listed but not the names of persons whose letters of endorsement and comment are on file.

Examples and explanations of the cross-references used in this microfilm publication are as follows:

1. Abell, Alexander G., see Graham, Joseph. Signifies that all material referring to Alexander G. Abell will be found under the name of Joseph Graham.
2. Abbott, George Jacob...(4). See also Barrell, Oliver K. Signifies that, in addition to the material filed under the name of George Jacob Abbott, there are references to him included under the name of Oliver K. Barrell.

A few cross-references are to other series of records, such as Resignations and Declinations or Diplomatic Despatches, which are among the General Records of the Department of State, Record Group 59, available at NARS.
